

Journal of Japan Society for Karoshi Research No.5 (2024)

“Issues on the 2024 Problem” and Long Working-hours - How to Prevent Death from Overwork

Special Issue 1. Past and Future Activities of Japan Society for Karoshi Research (JSKR)

- Hiroshi KAWAHITO The Past and Future of Karoshi (Death from Overwork) Research: Returning to the Origins
 Takashi AMAGASA Past and Future of Research on Death by Overwork from the Perspective of Occupational Medicine and Public Health
 Sachiko KUDOU Current Status and Issues of Karoshi Prevention Awareness Classes : A Case Study of 10 Years Engagement in Kanagawa
 Emiko TERANISHI "Family Association Concerned about Karoshi (Karoshi-wo-kangaeru Kazokuno-kai)" and the Activities of JSKR
 Shigeru WAKITA Efforts in Republic of Korea to prevent karoshi (death from overwork) learning Japan as a ‘negative model’
 Yoshiaki TAKADA Past and Future about "Journal of Japan Society for Karoshi Research"
 Yuhei KAYUKAWA On the occasion of the special project of the 10th Annual Meeting of the Japan Society for Karoshi Research, some considerations on the future of the JSKR.
 Yoritoshi NAGAI “Memorandum” by the Moderator Regarding the “Special Project” of the 10th Conference

Special Issue 2. The “2024 Problem” in Logistics and the Challenges of Work Style Reform - from the Perspective of Preventing Karoshi

- Shun MATSUMOTO Health Impact of irregular work schedules and strategies for mitigation among truck drivers
 Shotaro NAKANISHI The roadmap to abolish “Karoshi” of truck drivers. Based on an analysis of the reality and causes of long working hours and the frequent occurrence of death from overwork
 Yuji YANO Understanding the "2024 Problem": Issues and challenges facing truck transport companies
 Masanori KAWAMURA Reflections on the common discussion “Issues on the 2024 problem” and reform of labour conditions in the transportation industry - from the perspectives of karoshi prevention
 Asami WATANABE Comments to “Issues on the 2024 problem” and reform of labour conditions in the transportation industry - from the perspectives of karoshi prevention

Research Papers and Others

- Yoneko TANAKA Reforming Physicians Working Conditions and Future of the Regional Healthcare System
 Yoshiki TSUCHIYA Physician's work style reforms in Japan, issues in 2024.
 Hiroaki KITA Labor and Social Security Attorneys' Initiative to Prevent Death from Overwork —Lectures Held for 10 Consecutive Years since the Enactment of the Karoshi Prevention Law
 Mieko SAKAI Japanese Cabin Crew Begin to Raise Their Voices
 Takashi OKUDAIRA, Masanori ITOU Changes in the working conditions of aviation workers and issues in the post-Covid-19 era —A survey and discussion of stress among ground handling workers and aircraft mechanics
 Yoshie NAMAI Risk Management of Flight Attendant’s Security Duties and Fatigue: Study of Haneda Airport Accident on January 2nd, 2024
 Hironobu TERAUCHI Karoshi prevention and Labor human rights law
 Yuhei KAYUKAWA The Fallacy of the Average Workers Theory
 Masatoshi ICHIMURA The actual situation of industrial accidents in the construction industry and towards eliminating long working hours
 Megumi MORISAKI, Anonymous, Chiho ASADA and Others The situation of Overwork and Harassment in the Arts and Entertainment sector and the Direction of Problem-solving
 Yoshiki KUWAHARA Working Hours of Samurai Retainers (Hatamoto and Gokenin) and Merchants' Servants in the Edo Period
 Yoritoshi NAGAI, Rei SEIYAMA, Sachiko KUDOU, Kouji FUKUDA Report on a Practical case of the 2023 “Symposium on Promoting Measures to Prevent Karoshi and Injury from Overwork” at Ehime